

Stanford University
Department of Linguistics

Qualifying Paper Oral Exam Form

Each Department of Linguistics Ph.D. student must complete two substantial research papers in different subfields of linguistics, one in the second year and one in the third year. These papers are known as qualifying papers (QPs). Each QP is discussed orally with a committee of faculty in what is known as the 'QP Oral'. (From the QP section of the PhD Handbook)

Name of Student: Atticus Geiger

QP1

QP2

Title of Paper: Relational Reasoning with Non-Symbolic Neural Networks

Date of Oral Exam: _____

Committee Chair: _____

Committee Member: _____

Committee Member: _____

Committee Member: _____

QP Oral Exam Results:

The student Passed Failed the examination

Accepted as is with no revisions needed.

Revisions required. Date for completion _____
The QP chair will provide revision and time-frame details via email, with cc to GSA.

Committee Chair: _____ Date: _____

Please submit this form to the Graduate Studies Advisor (GSA).

GSA: _____

Date: _____